

COUGHING

Please remember that most upper respiratory infections are not caused by bacterial infections but are caused by viruses, which do not respond to antibiotic therapy. Viruses may take several weeks to run their course and relieve you of your symptoms.

See “Approved Medications During Pregnancy” list at the top of the page

If you are running a fever 100.4°F or greater call the office.